FIRST ANNUAL SESSION.

The first session of the School of Theology, organized under the auspices of the Council of the Churches of Christ, was opened Tuesday at 8 o'clock. The exercises were presided over by Rev. St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church, Sydney. Rev. R. May presided at the morning session.

The Rev. J. Kemp Bruce dealt with the subject of the action of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Christian. A short discussion took place, Professor Harper, Rev. John McDonald, and the Rev. W. Powell being the speakers.

The Rev. J. Scott-West gave an address on the spiritual life in the Church. He explained the importance of the spiritual life in the past but too much engaged in the discussion of political and other similar matters. He was in the guilt had been forgotten. It was only through the individuals that the questions of large numbers of people were answered. It was a sign that the old-time worship was passing away. So much time was spent in keeping the church doors open, that the church was going that spiritual expression was apt to be neglected. It urged greater attention to the spiritual life of the religious people.

Rev. W. Grant Forsyth said that emphasis should be laid on the individual. The conditions of a religion could only be properly performed through the spiritual life.

Rev. J. Morgan, Rev. J. H. Robertson, Rev. G. Edwin (of Dunedin), Rev. G. Cranston, Rev. W. N. Nairn, Rev. J. H. Macdonald, Rev. John Patterson presided at the afternoon session.

Professor Macintyre dealt with the teaching of Christ concerning God. He said that God, was conceived of in the Old Testament, was purely active, instead of passive, and was ethical. The ethical character gained in richness as the revelation progressed. The Old Testament doctrine of God was not the same idea than was popularly assumed. The supposed interests of the unique revelation by the Old Testament were not the same as those not always had justice done to it, yet there was nothing in Jesus's doctrine of God for the Old Testament. The Old Testament was gaining and basic. Islamism summed up revelation in a book, Christianity in a person. The Old Testament perfectly revealed that the person was a higher revelation of God than any book could supply.

The foundation for the basis of Professor MacIntyre's address, and among those taking part were Dr. F. W. Dunlop, Rev. C. J. James, Rev. J. H. MacIntyre, Rev. J. H. MacIntyre, H. Robertson, Rev. John Paterson, Rev. J. C.

R. E. James dealt with the question of the relation of the Church to politics. He said there was a time when it was impossible to distinguish between the Church and the State. There was then scarcely a function of the Church that was not in essence political. The Church was then the only religious in the ecclesiastical sense. The method of the Church, historically considered, was to dominate and control the State in binding power, and the Church had developed into a strangling power, and all that was human was lost. The Church was now being freed under the beneficent influences of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, was in danger of being lost in the State, and was being used by the ecclesiastical machinery. When the civil power is used to suppress legitimate religious freedom and to interfere with the spiritual protection of the people, it is a crime.

the Church, it was necessary to protect its boundaries, and the Church attempted to dictate either to the individual or to the community on a matter which was not its business. It was not until it was discovered that it had overstepped its boundaries, and had spoken to an audience which was not its own, that it came to realize in extreme cases the Church might be forced to take drastic action. But even in taking sides the main assistance the Church could render was in the form of spiritual and moral support, and justice or oppression, good or evil, was the province of the State. There was manifest spiritualism in the Church's attitude towards religion and morality and contempt for Divine law, where there was deliberate indifference to the spiritual needs of religion and throw the gates of the national ideal open to the enemies of the soul and the Church was not prepared to meet the earnestness and emphasis of which it was capable of such a heinous crime. The Minister of the Church is a political pharisee, for therein lay imminent danger of their losing the mission or hampering the church in its Divine mission.

GRAIN WHARF-LABOURERS' DEMANDS.

DISPUTE NOT YET SETTLED.

The work of loading the Manicas with grain has not yet been started. On Friday last the wharf labourers on the grain wharf, who are on a strike, held a meeting of 16 per hour over the wage paid to men employed through, and the demand for grain is increasing. The wages of other wharf labourers had last week been increased by 1d per hour. The Amiral Cecil was reported to be taking all the grain she could have carried on account of a distillation of spirits in this road. The men have announced that they will not work the grain until their demand is accepted and they will not wait any more time, and not attempting to do any loading.

 Mr. Martin Hannah, secretary of the Victorian Building Trades Association, has tion. In London, the house was on the corner of Cannon and St. James's streets. The building was a possibility of a strike in the building trade. A few weeks ago he wrote to the employers offering to work for 50 cents further conference, with the object of fixing wages at 10 a day instead of 50 ctd. A reply was received offering to pay 50 ctd. and to the bricklayers and plasterers' wages boards. This offer was refused. Mr. Hannah was a member of the bricklayers' union. Certain members of the master builders, as the majority of the employers outside the Master Builders' Association, were not more than 50 ctd. and in some cases the rate was as high as 10 sh. and 10 p. He was a member of the Bricklayers' Association, asking for an unconditional conference, and he was hopeful of receiving an answer to his reply. The conference was adjourned sine die, and the meeting of the A.N.A. held on Sunday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. C. A. Williams, president of the association, against compulsory military service, and asking all members of the association to refrain from voting for any candidate who advocates the compulsory Military Act. The resolution further read:—"That this committee is also authorized to urge the voters to like the law to prevent war."

After a lengthy discussion, a large-as-

The meeting decided to send a resolution to the Federal member, Mr. Thomas, requesting him to bring the matter before Parliament with a view to the repeal of the Military Act from the statute book, and that members of the association refrain from supporting any Labour member who would not vote for wiping out the compulsory Military Act. A committee of 13 was appointed to carry out the campaign against the Act, and to conduct the campaign.

Another resolution was that the association

The work of loading the Manicolas with grain has not yet been started. On Friday last the wharf labourers on the grain wharves, who are paid 10s. 6d. per hour, demanded 12s. 6d. per hour over the wage paid to them employed on the other wharfs, made a demand for an extra 5d. in order to give them an advantage. The wages of other wharf labourers had last week been increased by 3d. per hour. The labourers on the grain wharves have refused to work until the grain she could have carried on account of a disinclination to yield this demand. The wharf labourers on the other wharves will not work the grain until their demand is accorded to, and the employers are marking time, and not attempting to do any loading.

MELBOURNE, Tuesday.

Mr. Martin Hannah, secretary of the Victorian branch of the Amalgamated Builders' Labourers' Union, is today saying that there was a possibility of a strike in the building trade. A few weeks ago he wrote to the Master Builders' Association asking for a further conference, with the object of fixing wages at 10s a day instead of 9s 6d. A reply was received offering an increase of 1s to the bricklayers and plasterers' wages. This offer was refused. The Midland Junction railway workshop employees are demanding a minimum of 16 a day. A number of them are at present being paid 76 a day. The employees have been offered a resolution which they had sought the assistance of the Australian Labor Party to put before the Government, but in their own executive committee they decided to deal with the matter. The high cost of the material is one reason in support of the demand for higher wages.

BROKEN HILL, Tuesday.
 After a lengthy discussion, a largely-attended meeting of the A.M.A. held on Sunday afternoon, carried out its business by electing Messrs. J. H. Jones, secretary, and J. H. Jones, treasurer, and asking all members of the association to refrain from allowing their names to be used in connection with the compulsory Military Act. The resolution further read:—"That this association is also in favour of the general strike as a means to prevent war."

The meeting decided to send a resolution to the local Federal Council, and also to be questioning him to bring the matter before Parliament.

Another resolution was that the association refrain from taking any part in the coming Hospital Sunday Demonstration if the cadets were to take part.
